Fritz Sick, pioneer Lethbridge industrialist and founder of Lethbridge Breweries, now resident of Vancouver, celebrated his 82nd birthday on Monday. He is reported to be still remaining young.

A large contingent of Elks, forty in number, all horns, left here Tuesday evening to attend a compulsory roundup at Macleod. It was just a male conference, the result of which was to be announced sometime in 1942. Anyhow, the gang from the Crows' Nest Pass gathered with the Macleod-Granum-Lethbridge herd, and there seemed to be no discord whatever. The object of the meeting was not in any way to devise ways and means of controlling the cows, but to in a big manner endeavor to enlarge and ensure the betterment of the male herd. It was a congregation—there were horned guys from all points between Lethbridge, Claresholm and the Crows' Nest Pass, all prepared to help benefit the organization. They apparently stood steadfast against domination by the opposite sex, and announced their desire to stand firm for Elkdom. Elkdom is a growing concern in this corner of the province of Alberta, and is today one of the strongest organizations, fraternally and benevolently. The local lodge has increased its membership at least fifty per cent in the past five months, and still more prospects to come.

HAGGARTY-WEBSTER NUPTIALS

The marriage took place at Trail on Sunday afternoon of Vera Ellen Webster, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Webster, of Trail, to Mr. David Haggarty, of Calgary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Haggarty, also of Trail, formerly of Hillcrest, Alberta. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. W. Lees at Knox United church. Mrs. D. W. Forteth presided at the organ, playing the Bridal March from Lohengrin as the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, preceded by the bride's sister, Miss Mary Webster, as maid of honor, and by the groom's sister, Miss Betty Haggarty, as bridesmaid. Mr. Charles Haggarty attended his bride as best man. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Ralph Cook sang "Because." Mr. and Mrs. Haggarty left for Calgary, where they will make their home. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Berlin, of Claresholm, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. V. Tesky and Mrs. S. Thompson, of Carmangay, Alberta.

MAJOR SCHOOF ADDRESSES NUMBER MONTANA SCHOOLS

About three months ago Major G. H. Schoof received an invitation from the state superintendent of schools to come to Montana and give his lecture and exhibition of a truckload of hunting and war trophies and maps. He visited the schools at Libby, Eureka, Kalispell, Out Bank, Shelby, Polson, Missoula, Chateau, Fort Benton, Big Sandy, Harlem and others, and all recommended his work. It was his second engagement with these schools, and he has been asked to come again.

TO PURCHASE TWO MODERN FIGHTING PLANES

Four western districts of the Canadian Pacific Railway will be represented in the deputation to leave Winnipeg for Montreal on Monday, accompanying C. E. Stockill, assistant to the vice-president of the company's western lines, who will formally hand over to the Dominion government a cheque for $50,000 to purchase two modern fighting planes, the gift of C.P.R. employees through their "Golden Bomber Fund."

Mr. and Mrs. X. C. Kaupp, of New Dayton, will move to Cowley next week, where Mr. Kaupp is taking over the Cowley hotel.

The recent U. M. W. of A. convention in Calgary passed a resolution demanding the removal of Dr. Victor Wright and Albert Farnio from the Alberta Workmen's Compensation Board. The delegates called upon the Alberta administration to appoint a man to the board chairmanship who would act fairly and justly to injured workmen, and to name a labor representative on a full-time basis who would be truly representative of organized labor in the province.

SPONTANEOUS TEST BIG HIT IN BLAIRMORE

It is not often that students get a laugh on a teacher, but sometimes it does happen. The grade nine students of the Blairmore school were in this case the fortune-favored few. Spontaneous combustion was the topic. After a lecture, the science teacher brought in some material for an experiment. The material consisted of phosphorus and carbon bisulphate, which the teacher mixed in proper proportions in a test tube. He then poured some on paper, and as soon as it dried the paper burst in flame. It was really spectacular, and the experiment was repeated several times, to the delight of the students. Then the teacher proceeded to cork the solution, and he placed the test tube in his vest pocket as a precaution to keep it away from the kids. The class proceeded for a while as usual, but soon from under the folds of the teacher's coat great billows of smoke began to rise and soon flame. Yes, the solution had caused the cloth to burn just at it had the paper. Plenty of water, however, soon quenched the flame, and the teacher, who suffered nothing more than an injured dignity, faced his class, his clothes dripping. The uproar was deafening. "What will my wife say?" the teacher woefully commented, which added another burst to the bedlam. Spontaneous combustion will be at least one scientific topic that will be remembered by this school for a long time.—Ex.

CHRISTMAS PUDDINGS MAKE A FIVE MONTHS TREK TO GERMANY

As early as August, 72,000 Christmas boxes began their trek from the Red Cross packing centre in London to Britain's 70,000 men in the prison camps of Germany. The extra 2,000 parcels are an insurance that everybody gets one. The first lap was to Lisbon; the next to Marseilles; then to Geneva; and so to Germany.

In each box was a Christmas pudding, a double ration of chocolate, chocolate biscuits, rye biscuits, jam, margarine, roast pork and stuffing, a tin of steak and tomato, condensed milk, four ounces of sugar, two ounces of tea and a Christmas cake. Seven million two hundred thousand cigarettes went off at the same time in separate packages of 100—a double ration for each man. The value of this Christmas gift is $36,000.

Nor has the Red Cross forgotten the little band of eleven British children in German internment camps. Each of them has been sent a special parcel of barley sugar, boiled sweets and so on. And to one hospital in Belgium, where there are soldiers who have been lying on their backs since Dunkirk, has gone a consignment of jigsaw puzzles.

The Christmas boxes were put together at seventeen Red Cross centres in England and Scotland by 2,500 packers, 2,000 of whom did the work for nothing.

Occasionally this newspaper has poked fun at exaggerated stories that have emanated from our neighboring province of British Columbia. Okanagan's ogopogo and Creston's "bear that fought like a man" have been targets for our ridicule. Now we must admit that Alberta people sometimes strain the truth, at least slightly. Reports from Macleod last week stated that a wind came up which reached a velocity of 110 miles an hour. Now we know that some gosh-awful winds blow in Macleod. Legend records that a stormy persistent wind once blew a pioneer rancher up against the side of his barn and there he was suspended until he starved to death. But we don't believe Macleod had a 110-mile-per-hour breeze last week, or any time in its history.—Brooks Bulletin

THE WAR SERVICES FUND

The result of the Canadian War Services Fund, according to the last report, dated November 1st, shows the phenomenal success of the committee's efforts. The original drive was made with the objective of $5,500,000. There is actually in the Bank of Toronto $6,302,673.97, and in the ten provincial depositories $186,441.59, making a total of $6,489,115.56 collected and available. This, together with amount subscribed, but not yet paid in, brings the total to $7,101,078. There will probably be some uncollectable accounts in the final analysis, but the total should easily reach $6,750,000.

The amount paid to date are as follows: Canadian Legion $914,309; Knights of Columbus $770,720; I.O.E. $37,000; Salvation Army $1,542,125.50; Y.M.C.A. $1,954,409.05, and Y.W.C.A. $225,963.50. All of this shows clearly what the people of Canada think of the War Services, and how they feel towards those boys who have gone overseas to join in the great fight for freedom.

Next year the demands will be greater, for the units overseas have been increased, a large number of air-men have gone overseas, and the Canadian Navy personnel has been practically doubled. There will be added to the services which participated this year the Navy League and the Canadian Red Cross, the purpose being to have all demands for War Services work confined to one period, so that the remainder of the year may be left clear for War Savings and Victory Loan campaigns.

The tea and sale held in the Oliva hall on Saturday afternoon by St. Luke's Guild was very well attended and successful. A fish pond for the kiddies was operated.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Belanger, of Cranbrook, spent the week end here with Mrs. Belanger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Passmore, returning to Cranbrook on Tuesday.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Jack Welsh has returned from Edmonton, where he attended the municipalities convention.

Dennis Cyr was a recent visitor to his daughter at Medicine Hat.

The Tennyson branch of the Red Cross were entertained by Mrs. Yagos at her home on Tuesday afternoon for their regular monthly meeting.

A. C. Scotton, of the Cowley airport, will leave shortly for Peace River, where he has been transferred. Little Annie Lemire, who underwent a critical operation in a Macleod hospital a few weeks ago, is now home and convalescing favorably.

A well attended tea, sponsored by the Tennyson branch of the Red Cross, was held in the Masonic hall here on Saturday afternoon.

The ladies of the Anglican church will hold a tea in the parish room on Saturday, the 29th.

Pierre Ginnis, of the Cowley airport, will leave today by airplane for a holiday in Vancouver.

Mrs. Landry is spending a few weeks visiting friends in Medicine Hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cochrane, of the North Fork, and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Murphy were present at the largely attended funeral of the late Mrs. A. B. McMurdo at Pincher Creek on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Robert Day, senior, received word of the death of her mother, Mrs. Haigh, on October 25th at Worthington, Cumberland, England. She was in her 81st year. Several years ago Mrs. Day made a trip to visit her mother, taking her small daughter Dora with her. The community joins in sympathy.

Sergt. Ted Betts, of the airport, paid a visit to his brother Arthur and family here over the week end. Ted, who took his training in England, was stationed in Georgia state for several months, then transferred to Trenton, Ontario, and from there to DeWinton, Alberta, his present station.

A whist drive held in the Masonic hall under auspices of the local Red Cross on Wednesday evening was well attended. M. A. Murphy was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Arthur Tustin at the piano furnished music for the dance that followed luncheon.

High winds swept this district on Monday, making it most uncomfortable to be outside battling its fury. Most of the children were conveyed to the school by cars.

A number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Littleton on the evening of November 18th, springing a surprise party, the occasion being Mr. Littleton's 73rd birthday. Entertainment took the form of cards, for which suitable prizes were awarded. An appetizing luncheon was served by the ladies. Mrs. Irwin made the three-tiered birthday cake which centred the table. The honored guest was presented with a leather tobacco pouch and pipe.

INTEREST WILL BE PAID

Everybody knows that the interest on Canada's war debts or on any other public debt will be paid religiously when it becomes due. Canada is not like Alberta under Social Credit, which has repudiated half the interest on the provincial debt. Canada is one of the most solvent countries in the world, which fulfills the promises in its bonds and which will repay all investors, not only the interest on their bonds, but also the principal if they demand the principal.—Stettler Independent.

To add a finishing touch to their meeting on Tuesday night, Macleod Elks served a supper in the lodge hall, consisting mainly of elk sandwiches. The elk was a gift from I. E. Miles, who is well known as one of the drivers for Greyhound bus line on the western route—Macleod Gazette.

BLAIRMORE LIBRARY HAS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

At the annual meeting of the Blairmore Library Board, held on the 21st inst., the slate of officers was returned: chairman, D. MacPherson; secretary, Miss H. Dutil; treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Ferguson; convener of purchasing committee, Mrs. C. M. Larbalestier.

Reports presented showed membership in the library as having doubled itself in the year. Over $300 was spent in books alone, for adults and juniors. The junior section, which includes many of the supplementary books on the school course, is being given special attention. The board voiced appreciation for financial assistance received from the following: West Canadian Collieries, Town of Blairmore, Blairmore School Board and B.P.O.E.

CANADIAN RED CROSS NOTES

An emergency appeal for $500,000 for medical and relief supplies for Soviet Russia was launched by the Canadian Red Cross this week.

"The fund raised in this appeal will be used to purchase medical supplies and surgical equipment, which will be shipped direct to Russia via Britain," declared Dr. F. W. Routley, national commissioner of the Society.

One of the things handicapping Russia today, he pointed out, is the lack of modern medicines, surgical instruments and operating room supplies, which are so vitally necessary to combat disease and suffering under war conditions of such gigantic scale.

"The appeal," the commissioner said, "is being made at the request of the Dominion government. Every dollar raised will be sent in Canada, and with shipment through the free freight facilities of the Red Cross will mean that when the supplies reach Russia, every dollar spent will mean three dollars in goods. There will be no administration costs, as the organization's collecting system will be used."

The Red Cross has already sent a vast quantity of its own supplies to the Soviet Union, Dr. Routley said, and a cable has been received stating that over one million articles of relief supplies have left Britain for Russia. This includes important drugs and field comforts.

PAT CANROY HONORED

Pat Canroy, a fighting trades unionist for 28 years and since 1936 vice-president of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, was honored at the recent convention in Calgary, when he was granted leave of absence to take over his new post as secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor.

Pat is leaving Calgary this week to take up his new duties in Ottawa. He was presented with a pocket watch and chain by the convention.

Iodine tablets are being distributed to all schools in the district, so that each pupil may receive one tablet per week throughout the year. This will remedy the deficiency of iodine in the diet and prevent the enlargement of the thyroid gland, so frequently encountered among the school population.—Stettler Independent.

We regret to learn that our old friend, Fred Forster, has been on the sick list at Pincher Creek, and for a while was unable to attend the regular sessions of the "Bucket o' Blood." Fred's car refused to stay on the highway. Got tired, or something, and just laid over on its side. Fred felt uncomfortable and called a doctor. Mrs. Jack Kelly also is on the sick list, but is reported favorably progressing from a major operation. Pincher Creekians should really move to a healthier climate—Blairmore, for instance.

Guns used during the Crimean war have disappeared from prominent town sites in England; scrapped and sent to munition factories.

Thirty-eight Axis vessels, including three naval and five auxiliary craft, have been captured in operations outside Indian waters by the Royal Indian Navy in co-operation with empire naval forces.

HOME SERVICE

YOUR DOG RELIES ON YOU FOR EXPERT KINDLY CARE

You Can Train Without Whipping! What an appealing, trustful look! You want to do your best for him, give him the simple but right care that keeps a dog happy, healthy and well-mannered.

No whipping your pet when he misbehaves, nor will you rub his nose in the dirt. Better house-breaking practice to take him to the spot and slap him lightly on the hindquarters with a folded paper. He'll soon learn his manners if, when he's a tiny pup, you start taking him outside from five minutes to an hour after feeding.

Perhaps your dog is eating poorly, acting dull and listless. Has he caught cold? Does he sneeze and shiver? If so—bottle him into a warm place, give him a dose of syrup of buckthorn—from one teaspoonful to two tablespoonfuls. Feed lightly, milk and beef broth, for the first day or two.

This time of the year, to increase his resistance, you might add cod-liver oil to his diet. Be sure, too, his diet is right.

You can easily raise a happy, healthy dog, teach him clever tricks as well as obedience. Our 32-page booklet shows you how, helps you choose your pet, feed, housebreak and groom him. Describes symptoms and treatments of dog ailments such as distemper.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "How To Choose and Care for Your Dog" to Home Service Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg, Man.

New Airplane

Plane Developed in U.S. Can Fly From America To Persian Gulf

Igor I. Sikorsky said that a trans-oceanic airplane being fabricated at his plant would fly from here to the Persian Gulf.

The plane, one of three of its type being made for American export airlines, is not sensational in tonnage or bulk, but is designed to afford non-stop trans-Atlantic travel.

"This is an airplane," commented Sikorsky, veteran aircraft builder whose planes pioneered air travel over both the Atlantic and Pacific, "which will fly from here to the Persian Gulf, if necessary."

Fully loaded, it weighs about 29 tons.

Sikorsky said it would carry 40 passengers, 3,000 miles at 200 miles an hour. It will be test-flown for the first time next month.

Three military-type planes of the same general design, the aircraft designer and manufacturer disclosed, have been ordered by the United States Navy. An original prototype has been in the navy service for about three years.

Henry Dryden, who designed the interior of the transport, said it would be a "Waldorf Hotel on wings."

The airline has received permission from the government to begin service as soon as its planes are ready.

For Charitable Purposes

Italian Composer Contributed Hair But Did Not Say Where

It is related that Verdi, the Italian composer, on being asked to support a charity bazaar, announced that he would contribute a lock of hair to all willing to pay the price. He then retired behind a curtain. Soon the merry cluck of the scissors was heard. Many locks were sold and the charity profited greatly. But when Verdi re-appeared his hair was intact while his valet seemed to have had his head shaved.

Need Metal For Munitions

More Wooden Toys Will Be Seen This Christmas

Toys are going to be different this Christmas. Because of the wartime demand for metal for munitions the children will find more wooden toys in their gift packages and fewer mechanical playthings.

Despite the war and the tight shipping situation, Britain has managed to send to Canada supplies of plush and woolen animals and toys and engineering construction sets. It is a part of the British program to keep a grip on regular trade and maintain markets in which to expand when peace is won.

Ship Was Renamed

Queen Elizabeth Called Former Ark Raleigh The Ark Royal

The name Ark Royal goes back for its origin to Tudor times. When Spain was threatening England with invasion, Queen Elizabeth bought the Ark Raleigh—designed for Sir Walter Raleigh's further adventures to the New World—and renamed her the Ark Royal. During the Armada campaign she was the flagship of the Lord High Admiral.

The Elizabethan Ark Royal was a ship of 800 tons, mounting 85 guns, and with a complement of 400 men. The Queen bought her for £5,000. Money well given, as the Lord High Admiral agreed. The last Ark Royal, completed less than a year before the outbreak of the war, was a vessel of 22,000 tons, with a speed of nearly 32 knots. She carried 40 aircraft, and nearly 1,600 officers and men—Windsor Star.

Urged To Save Coal

The British government appealed to housewives to economize on coal by not washing dishes and clothes under open hot water faucets. It asked them also to discontinue day-long playing of radios and heating of bedrooms.

Empire Unity

Because tuberculosis always strikes hardest during times of stress, such as "total war," the Christmas Seal Sale is being held in Britain as a means of raising money for the fight against the disease. Because of war conditions, Canada printed the seals and sent them overseas months ago. The same seals are being used in the Mother Country and in the Dominion. Both British and Canadian organizations are doing their utmost to prevent tuberculosis from getting out of control. There is a deeper meaning than ever before in the appeal, "Buy and Use Christmas Seals."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 30

CHRISTIAN LOVE

Golden text: We love, because he first loved us. 1 John 4:19.

Lesson: Leviticus 19:17, 18, 33, 34; Deuteronomy 6:4, 5; Matthew 22:37-39; John 13:16, 17, 34, 35; 1 Corinthians 13.

Explanations and Comments

The Test of Christian Discipleship, John 13:34, 35. Among Jesus' parting words to his disciples after parting of the Last Supper were these: "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another." Why did he call this a new commandment? Back in Leviticus 19:18 we read, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." In what sense was this commandment to love one another new? In their motive for such love, in the inspiration back of it which was to be theirs. You know that I have loved you; let this love inspire you to love one another."

By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another. Let the proof your discipleship be shown, not by your creed, your hymns, your ritual, but by the fact that you love one another. This test they were abundantly able to stand. Tertullian has told how in those early days others exclaimed, "See how these Christians love one another!"

Love Is Essential, 1 Corinthians 13:1-3. If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am as sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal. In these words Paul declares that emotional gifts, ecstatic utterances, are valueless; they are without meaning, for eloquence uninspired by love means no more than so much noise. The Greek word translated tongues means primarily ecstatic utterances. A man having the "gift of tongues" was excited to rhetorical, marvellous speech. Trumpets and cymbals were employed in the worship at pagan temples to produce deafening noises. Possibly Paul's comparison was drawn from the shrill, discordant noise made by poor Christians with their tongues, each endeavoring to drown the voices of the others, 1 Cor. 13:1.

The apostle read into the word "love" an absolutely new significance: the love of the amorous; nothing of the insipid, nothing of the passionate; but love as it abides in God, its fountain head.

Parable Of The Dodo

Teaches Those Who Would Fly To Keep Wings in Order

Sometimes there are strange lessons to be learned from nature. The London Times recently compared the dodo, a large flightless bird now extinct, with the Britons. The comparison is unique and a little imaginative but nevertheless it points an ominous warning.

"It is odd that the most striking lesson to be learned from this antique bird should be of the importance of air power," says the Times. "The dodo, like the Britons, lived on an island, where it was comparatively free from enemies; it ate the tropical fruit that lay on the ground and found its wings superfluous and a bore; as a result it grew so fat that it could not have raised itself off the ground if it had tried—and at the first arrival of man it fell an easy victim."

"The parable of the dodo has been known for over two hundred years and those who do not want to go the way of the dodo had better keep their wings in good flying order—whether they live on an island or not."

The dodo of Mauritius Island in the Indian Ocean was the great ancestor of several islands off the Labrador coast were both wingless birds. They were secure on their island homes until the arrival of European seamen, then their lack of flight made them an easy prey to sailors who would come ashore armed simply with clubs. The dodo became extinct early in the 1600's; the great auk became extinct over a century ago. Both species were literally killed off the face of the earth, because they had no flight power.

It is a strange and striking parallel to what might also have been the story in Great Britain to-day. The "wings" of Britain of the dodo and the great auk. But a New R.A.F. was born, the "wings" of Britain seized control of the sky over tortured Dunkirk and later over the British Isles itself.

"Never was so much owed by so many to so few!"

The Nazis hoped for it, but the story of the dodo and the great auk will never be re-enacted on the island of Britain. The dodo and the great auk held lost their wings, but the Britons drew on that reserve strength which they always produce in an emergency, and re-found theirs.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

CANADA'S HEALTH

The condition of Canada's health is summarized in a pertinent article written for the Health League of Canada by Frank Chamberlain, publicist. "Canadians are a sick people," he writes, "and we are not alarmed about it. We go about our daily business as if there were nothing wrong."

Yet, he charges, half a million Canadian children have been found to be improperly nourished. A quarter of a million of our Canadians suffer from impaired hearing. Seventy-seven thousand children have weak or damaged hearts. Thirty-five thousand are mentally retarded. Thirty thousand are suffering from tuberculosis. Thirty-eight hundred are partially blind. Over 1,000 are wholly blind and 1,400 are totally deaf.

Referring to a recent statement by Col. J. L. Rath, Canada's minister of national defence, indicating that out of 50,000 young Canadians who had offered their services in Canada's armed forces, only 30,000 were found to be physically fit, the writer goes on to say: "This is a tragedy, a sensational tragedy. I thought the newspapers of this country would blazon their eight-column headlines with this shocking fact."

Canada loses 311 children every year from diphtheria, despite the fact that Canada will prevent diphtheria, the writer continues. Two hundred and seventy-one people die in Canada each year from typhoid fever, and between the years 1916-1937 there were 47 typhoid fever epidemics, despite the fact that known methods of pasteurization of milk and safeguarding of water supplies will eliminate this disease.

The backbone of preventive medicine is public health, the article concludes. "We must begin with the mothers—pre-natal care. Then the infants. Then the children. School health examinations must be stiffened. Rural health units must be strengthened. More health clinics must be opened. Public-health medical officers of health must be appointed. A full-out health educational program must be launched. Federal grants in aid of provinces must be renewed."

Canada can be healthy. To-day it is unhealthy. "What are we going to do about it?" asks Frank Chamberlain.

IS HITLER OUTSMARTING US?

Hitler said he would dictate peace terms to Britain in Buckingham Palace on August 8th, 1940.

Hitler said he would take Moscow within three weeks of June 22nd, 1941.

Hitler said five or six weeks ago that the most momentous event of the war would be reached in 48 hours—meaning the utter defeat of Russia.

Hitler is the most colossal liar and the shrewdest propagandist of all time. Nazi dive bombers and blitz buggies don't strike until the propaganda time-bombs, placed by the Hitler gang, are ready to go off.

Nazi agents are planting their lies all over North and South America. There are lots of them sewing the seeds of discord and suspicion right here in Canada. They say better put your money into strike funds and let Mike and Joe, or some other strong arm guy, get a real cut for you. The sops pass this along and the quiet wise guy slips back to the Vaterland by the way of U.S.A. and Lisbon to receive the iron cross for smart work done in Canada.

These are wise-looking individuals who throw out the suggestion that this war was brought about by the financial interests, or that the money Canadians are lending their government by purchasing Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates, will never be repaid, or that gasoline saving is not necessary. How could German sympathizers in Canada serve Hitler better than by casting suspicion upon Canada's war effort?

Every time you hear a Canadian expressing these thoughts, or similar ideas, you are listening to a Hitler propagandist. Challenge the statements and tell the individual that he is in the wrong country. This is Canada, not Germany. Then you will be doing your bit to prevent Hitler from outsmarting us.—Trochu Tribune.

OTHER EDITORS SAY:

The editor of a weekly newspaper would be remiss in his duty if he ignored the concerns which his readers have in the contents of his publication. They look upon their hometown paper as being their very own, feeling free to drop in on the editor to make suggestions as to what should be published. That is as it should be. As a matter of fact, a weekly newspaper could hardly function if its readers did not take this interest and act in the capacity of reporters by sending in welcome news items of local and district happenings. For any proffered advice, or for the many news bits handed in every week, an editor is truly grateful. It would be appreciated, however, if its contributors kept in mind that the modern weekly is essentially a newspaper, and what goes into its news columns must have high news value. Many times the editor has to refuse to reprint articles or lengthy items from publications such as magazines or periodicals having only a limited local news value.—Swift Current Sun.

THINKING OF OTHERS

The closing weeks of the calendar year lead most Canadians away from themselves. On November 11th, the nation stands still for a minute or two to recall to mind the thousands of bright young Canadian boys who valiantly against land and accepted a "mole grave in Flanders to help keep Canada a nice place to live in." On December 25th, old and young are brought face to face with the truth that giving is better than receiving.

It seems fitting then that the last days of the War Weapons Campaign should extend into this period of the year when Canadians see a little clearer the duty which one man owes to his fellowman. The subscriber to war savings certificates is not a giver, of course. Essentially he is doing himself a fine service in the fact that he is building up future personal security and getting good interest on his money.

Yet, in serving himself, the Canadian citizen who participates in the present war savings campaign is also serving his fellow Canadians. The weapons which war savings money buys are vital to the new crop of Canadian youths who, in their turn, are standing ready to protect mothers, sisters and fathers as did the young men of another generation.

Canadians will not let their soldier sons down. In the spirit of Armistice Day and Christmas Day, the war weapons campaign should be highly successful.

Delegates at the provincial conference of supporters of the Independent movement in Edmonton endorsed a resolution asking that the federal government should take action to prevent Premier Aberhart and the Social Credit board from making statements and distributing pamphlets that will have a prejudicial effect on any future war financing. An amendment was suggested that "all those who sabotaged the country's war effort by speeches, or in any other way, should be placed in internment camps."

Every day you hear someone ask: "What do you think of your friend Aberhart now?" and "If he were honest, he'd resign and drop out of Alberta's picture." The majority of the people of the province no doubt feel that way about him now. His idea of supporting the war effort from the treasury of the public, who are already helping the war to their utmost limit, is not the kind of assistance one can appreciate today.

REHABILITATION

To cure tuberculosis patients is good, but to send them back to the poor conditions which produced the disease is criminal. Sanatorium treatment is expensive. Why waste it by sending patients back to the heavy job, which can only produce a relapse? Many of the patients require training for new positions that will permit lighter work. If that is arranged, the patient soon becomes a self-supporting citizen, an asset to the community, instead of a burden.

It is the purpose of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association to train cases for suitable employment, to provide equipment, and, if necessary, to finance them in getting established. This is rehabilitation, the main project of the association.

OUR FOOD SUPPLY

Written Specially for C.W.N.A.
Newspapers by John Adams,
Farmer-Journalist

No. 6—A CHANCE TO LEARN

A nation-wide discussion of Canada's food supply problems will be open to every Canadian with eyes to see and ears to hear during this fall and winter.

Every Canadian who can possibly do so should set aside 9 to 9:30, eastern daylight saving time, to learn more about Canada's food supply and how it can be maintained.

Never before have the people of any country had such an opportunity to gain knowledge of a problem which vitally affects personal well-being, national security and the world future.

Canada can grow and give and sell food in sufficient quantities to tip the scales of war and peace. What is essential to that achievement is surely of first importance to every intelligent Canadian in country, town and city.

Canada can sustain its agriculture as a war-winning industry and as a post-war shock absorber, or it can cripple wartime food production and create a post-war burden of farm bankruptcy. Which Canada will depend upon the extent of understanding co-operation between food producers and food consumers in Canada. There cannot be understanding without knowledge of each other's problems.

Beginning with Monday evening, November 10th last, and continuing each Monday evening until March 20th, 1942, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will broadcast thought-provoking, dramatized discussions sponsored by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and the Canadian Association for Adult Education, which will be known as Farm Radio Forums.

These radio discussions are intended to prime the pump of discussion which will draw knowledge from the experience of all Canadians. They are intended to stimulate study and to point to sources of information.

In the rural communities farmers will gather in forum groups to discuss the problems outlined in the radio presentations and to check the ideas offered with their own needs and possibilities. In town and city homes thousands of interested listeners will tune in as they did last winter. The problems presented and the solutions proposed will be amplified and interpreted in the editorial columns of the press, which in its current news presents the facts upon which judgments are based.

During the Monday evenings, December 15th to January 6th, the programmes are specially designed for individual listening, being word pictures of farmers at work in the east and west.

Every community has its own food supply problems. Towns situated in agricultural areas must supplement local products with the products of other food-producing areas, domestic and foreign, to a greater or lesser extent. Some Canadian towns and cities must bring all, or nearly all, of their food some distance. However it may be situated, no Canadian town can find all of the foods for the varied Canadian diet in its own district. Every Canadian town depends upon a well-balanced, properly-sustained Canadian agriculture for its basic food requirements. Every Canadian depends upon a maximum Canadian food production as a means of national defense.

Farmers are faced with acute and vital problems of labor supply, cost of production and means of production. These problems must be understood by all classes of Canadians before they can be solved. Every reader of this newspaper can help solve them.

Gross operating revenues of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the current year to November 14th last exceeded those of all last year by nine million.

INFLATION IS REAL AIM OF FUNNY MONEY PLANS

Study of all proposals for monetary reform seems to boil them down to the one suggestion of inflation, H. T. Jaffray, general manager of the Imperial Bank told the Canadian Bankers' Association at the annual meeting of that body in Toronto last week.

The most general proposal for currency reform, he indicated, involved a greatly increased amount of note circulation issued by the Dominion government through the Bank of Canada, the government paying its war bills this way.

How this leads to inflation he illustrated thus:

"... bank notes are only sound tokens to facilitate the immediate or deferred transfer of commodities or services. In other words—they are like so many men sent out to do a piece of work, their work being to exchange commodities from one owner to another. When their work is through, just as in the case of the men who have just finished their job, they go home—the home for the bank note being the bank that issues it. If, to follow my simile a little further, you wanted to employ twice as many men to do the same amount of work and be as long employed, it would seem logical that the only solution would be for each man to do half as much work as he did before, and if you translate this back to bank notes, it seems that in order to double the amount of bank notes in circulation and keep them in circulation, you have either to double the business turnover of the country or you have to double the price of goods.

"The latter is inflation pure and simple, and in no other way can the amount of bank notes outstanding be increased beyond the amount actually required to carry on the business turnover of the country.

"It is volume of business that calls bank notes into circulation. It is not the circulation of bank notes that causes business to increase."

At the outbreak of the war, the notes of the Bank of Canada in circulation amounted to $179 millions, of which the chartered banks held $58 millions; by August 31st, 1941, the amount had increased to $422 millions, of which $30 millions were in the tills of the chartered banks, whose own notes had been reduced by $10 millions over the same period.

"Canada's increased business output is the reason for the increased circulation of Bank of Canada notes."

Another type of inflation referred to by Mr. Jaffray was that brought about by "ever increasing wages, which carry with them, of necessity, an increase in the cost of living. I have wondered," he said, "and no doubt the wage-earners themselves must be asking—how much of these demands are the result of the activities of professional agitators who live well off labor's contributions and in order to ensure their jobs, spend their time making rosy promises which they must themselves know cannot be fulfilled in any final analysis of wealth.

As against this the hardship of those on fixed incomes must be obvious to everyone, so that no matter in what manner inflation is brought about, the result is the same. No one can benefit and many must suffer."—Financial Post.

Back in March, 1936, we were notified from Edmonton to "discontinue sending our paper addressed to the publicity commissioner, as that position was being abolished." Now our paper goes to the same office in Edmonton, addressed to the director of publicity. The position was never abolished, but it was a method used in ousting an official, one of the many who could not see eye to eye with the social crediters.

For the extra week of hunting ring-necked pheasants, the three hotels at Brooks were swamped by the influx of hunters. There were quite a number came from points in Saskatchewan, Manitoba, British Columbia and Montana, and all are said to have secured just about the bag limit.

POLICE CRACK DOWN ON RECKLESS DRIVERS

Reckless drivers and other traffic law violators are being "cracked down" upon by the police authorities, judging by reports from various parts of the province.

Several instances have been reported where "hit-and-run" drivers have been apprehended partly through co-operation of citizens.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association have urged members to give their full co-operation to the authorities in tracking down these law breakers.

The "hit-and-run" driver is one of the most contemptible of all types of law breakers. Everything possible should be done by the police to bring such drivers before the law tribunals for proper punishment.

Safe driving conditions on the highways of this province will be brought about when reckless drivers are given to understand that they will receive severe punishment.

Under wintry conditions, it is all the more essential to observe all the elements of safety in operating cars. At such a time, there is no reason why safe drivers should be exposed to additional hazards through reckless speedsters being allowed to spread death and destruction.

A Real Gas Saver

A local motorist was asked if he had tried a new atomizer, which is said to halve petrol consumption.

"Rather," he replied. "It did all the makers claimed for it, and saved fifty per cent of my petrol. I also bought a new carburetor, which saved thirty per cent; got another brand of petrol, which saved twenty per cent, and some special spark plugs which save another ten per cent. Then I took the car out for a test run, and I'm dashed if the petrol tank didn't overflow before I'd gone five miles!"

THE GOVERNMENT HOLDS HER BABY

Mothers of Britain are anxious to "do their bit" in the great new war factories which are springing up all over the country. And the government is doing all it can to make it easy for them.

No mother of young children is being forced to take up war work, but, out of the first batch to register, thousands of young mothers volunteered for factory work—"If only I can find someone to look after my baby."

So now the government has arranged for "someone to look after baby" on a nation-wide scale. The ministry of health, the board of education and the local authorities got together. The result is an ever-growing national chain of nurseries, in which working mothers can leave their babies and young children to the care of expert nurses, teachers and assistants.

Support of a plan to form a province-wide organization of Independents and other bodies opposed to the Aberhart administration, and a suggestion that it be called the "United Citizens of Alberta" was voiced in a resolution passed at Cochrane recently. The meeting embodied the whole of the Banff-Cochrane constituency.

Longest Telephone

Line Stretches 6,000 Miles From Moscow To Siberia

The world's longest telephone line, the carrier system covering the entire breadth of the Soviet Union, is among the first recipients of British supplies for Russia. The system stretches for 6,000 miles from Moscow across Siberia to Khabarovsk, just north of Vladivostok. Several conversations can be carried over it on the one line, a great economy for long distances.

Maintenance equipment is now on its way from the British telephone engineers who were given the original contract. They were also responsible for the network of defence communications which played such a large part in winning the Battle of Britain last year.

The present order was given in February last and delivery was promised for this autumn—British Industries Bulletin.

Essential For Peace

The most essential condition for peace was that the Baltic sea should not be dominated by Germany any more, said Dr. Stefan Littauer, Polish newspaperman. The Baltic should be guarded by the British fleet, he said.

Dominates Situation

Canadian Writer Says British Have Every Confidence In Churchill

Gratias O'Leary says the British people draw a sharp distinction between Prime Minister Churchill and his Government. The line is more sharply drawn than it is in this country between premier and cabinet.

The confidence which the British people have in Churchill is never in doubt. Mr. O'Leary believes one can feel it shortly after landing in England. He dominates the situation and the people are willing that he should, but they do not think so much of a good many of his cabinet ministers.

During the last war Lloyd George had with him Bonar Law, Churchill, Birkenhead, Carson and Mr. O'Leary is certain Churchill has not such men with him today. Of Mr. Bevin, the man who fathered the great strike of 1926, Mr. O'Leary heard much. It was considered a great move to have such a man in the cabinet, and undoubtedly it was a wise thing to do, but the indications are that Bevin was one about as far as his ability will carry him.

Lord Beaverbrook is reported to be the one man who argues with Prime Minister Churchill. In common parlance they go to the mat repeatedly with Churchill accepting about one out of ten of the ideas or suggestions which Beaverbrook has in mind.

But no government ever had the place which is reserved for Prime Minister Churchill to-day. He is the Lloyd George of the previous war and he is actually a great deal more.

Could Claim Mileage Record

Man Has Travelled $4,280 Miles In Twenty Years For Haircuts

Whenever J. A. Carroll, of St. Stephen, N.B., needs a haircut, it involves travelling 242 miles.

Carroll, a retired railway telegrapher, has been doing this travelling for the past 20 years. He boards a train for St. John, N.B., in the morning and arrives back home at night, following the practice rigidly and at the rate of about every three weeks each year. By the time he is at the family fireside he has covered 242 miles by train, in addition to several miles of walking during the day.

The haircutting has always been done in one barber shop in St. John and by only one barber—Edward McGuire, whose shop is near the railway station. If McGuire is busy, and there is a line-up ahead of him, Carroll waits for an opportunity to sit in the boss barber's chair instead of that of an assistant. He has about six hours to kill, anyway, before he catches a train home.

In explanation of why he makes the rail jump to St. John, just for a haircut, Carroll says he likes McGuire's haircuts and thinks McGuire is the fastest man on his feet in the barber trade anywhere.

Incidentally, Carroll might well claim the mileage record among haircut seekers in the world—a total of about $4,280 miles in the 20 years he has been railing to and from St. John just for the hair operations.

A Strange Spectacle

Was Provided By Crew Of Grounded British Aircraft Carrier

Wars produce strange spectacles and the crew of a newly-built Canadian naval minesweeper tells of one it saw in a recent cruise on the Pacific coast.

In the Central America zone the crew were ordered to try a grounded British aircraft carrier off the rocks. To their combined amazement and amusement, 1,500 British tars started doing the Lambeth Walk, a favorite dance of the English, on the carrier's deck.

Her commander thought the vibration would help shake his craft loose.

Blanket Appeal

Red Cross Blanket Appeal For 1941 Successful In Its First Stages

The opening days of the Blanket Appeal for civilian sufferers in Britain, launched by the Canadian Red Cross Society, October 25th, and to continue indefinitely, show excellent response from individuals and branches throughout the Dominion. Saskatchewan Red Cross headquarters to date has received 325 blankets, donated, 1,170 quilts donated, and 1,000 blankets, for which $2,000 has been received from branches and individuals in the province, and which has been remitted to National Office for the purchase of these blankets for immediate shipment overseas.

Outstanding amongst these recent donations to provincial headquarters are two hand-made quilts, the work and donation of Mrs. R. T. Edwards, 1388 Cornwall Street, Regina, at the age of 92.

Commissioner W. F. Marshall reports from a recent visit to the Red Cross branch at Kennedy, further instances of unusual work being done by the hands of faithful women. Mrs. Dally, a Belgian lady, resident of Kennedy for many years, has completed her one-hundredth pair of Red Cross quilts for 1941, also at the age of 92.

Mrs. Warner also of Kennedy, is a rummer-up, having turned in her forty-fifth pair of quilts since January last. This constant faithfulness of young and old, is greatly appreciated by the society.

Must Have License

Commercial Travellers Who Take Orders For More Than One Firm Are Affected

Commercial travellers who "take orders for more than one firm" dealing in goods, foods, cloth, yarn, clothing or footwear, or who handle transactions in their own name or on their own account must take out a license from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. C. R. Morphy, licensing director of the board, said:

Branch showrooms are held to be branches of the parent organization and the latter must make application for licenses for them, designating on the application form the complete address of each branch. Licenses in this case will bear the same licence number as that of the parent company.

Showrooms operating on a commission basis will be treated as separate legal entities and their operators must have a separate licence.

No Shortage Of Bread

What Britain Needs Most Is Milk, And Protein Foods

The ministry of food envisions the United States under the lend-lease program as a gigantic milk can or perhaps a vast butter tub or maybe even an egg basket, rather than the "breadbasket" for democracies that some Americans are reported talking about.

There never has been a shortage of bread there. What Britain needs most and hopes to get are milk and a variety of protein foods.

That is the explanation, from the ministry's viewpoint, of a seeming discrepancy between Prime Minister Churchill's cheering announcement that Britain's food reserves are higher than at the outbreak of war, and warnings from United States officials that Americans must curtail their consumption of protein foods in order to help feed the British nation.

"We need evaporated milk first and above all," an authorized ministry source explained. "After that, we need other protein-rich proteins—bacon, cheese, butter, other milk products, beans and eggs."

Requires Lots Of Nerve

Straight Air Gunners Sit At Tail End Of Bombing Plan

Here's a word for young Canadians who, to borrow a phrase from Air Minister Power, have clear grit, nerves of steel and a clear eye: Your chance in the air is coming, the chance to be a "Tail-End Charlie."

He told the Commons he believed certain Canadian-made aircraft could be modified and substituted for types difficult to obtain from Britain to Canada, could train a type of pupil "to which we are not at all committed" under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

"I refer to pupils such as the straight air gunners—Tail-End Charlies, they call them," said Maj. Power. "They sit at the tail end of the bombing machines with all heaven above and all hell below. They require clear grit; they must have nerves of steel and a clear eye."

The last time anyone bothered to figure it out there were 742 persons to the square mile in England.

No Place Like It

At Least That Is What Bostonians Think Of Boston

An American of some distinction has recently written an autobiography in which, as a critic complains, "he scarcely mentions any American city west of the Hudson River." Well, why should he, if they do not appeal to him? He lives in Boston; or did; and when a wild-eyed Second Adventist rushed up to Emerson and Theodore Parker as they were walking together one day, to ask them if they knew that the world was soon to come to an end, Emerson, who lived in Concord, replied: "Well, I think that I can get along without it," and Parker said: "I know that I can't. I live in Boston."—The Argonaut.

DRASTIC STEPS MAY BE TAKEN TO STABILIZE PRICES

Ottawa.—If existing laws of supply and demand are insufficient to maintain prices at levels deemed fair to the consumer, the federal government will buy and sell through its own agencies to maintain those levels, a wartime price and trade board announcement showed.

The board announced that its present chairman, Hector McKinnon, will become president of a commodity price stabilization corporation which now is being organized. His place as board chairman will be taken by Donald Gordon, deputy governor of the Bank of Canada.

A leading expert on tariffs and their effects, Mr. McKinnon will be in a position to make use of the authority given the price board to recommend that goods and services be "admitted to Canada free of duty or that the duty thereon be reduced to such amount or rate as will, in the opinion of the board, give the public the benefit of reasonable competition."

As a further protection to the public in its purchases of the essentials of life, the board may recommend subsidies be paid to maintain prices at a reasonable level.

Officials here said there was every prospect the board's advice in respect to tariffs and subsidies would be implemented soon after the price ceiling goes into effect on Dec. 1.

As the Dominion depends on the United States for large supplies of manufactured goods and certain food products such as citrus fruits, subsidies and duty alterations may become immediately necessary to protect the Canadian consumer against developments over which the price board has no control.

It was not anticipated that the price board or its agencies would actually take the delivery of various commodities, particularly raw materials, which it may purchase and re-sell at prices satisfactory to the price ceiling regulations.

"It may well be that many millions of dollars will be involved in such transactions, but the ultimate result hoped for is the Canadian public will be saved from the disastrous effects of an inflationary spiral," an official said.

"Already arrangements have been made that basic wages will not be increased and that any changes in the costs of essential commodities will be met by a cost-of-living bonus."

This official pointed to the board statement declaring its "unqualified determination" to carry out the price-ceiling policy as decided upon.

The price ceiling is established on the basis of maximum prices prevailing between Sept. 15 and Oct. 11.

As an indication of what the commodity price stabilization corporation will undertake, the board announcement said it will be engaged in increasingly important and large-scale transactions. These transactions will involve "heavy financial commitments and use of government funds."

A further weapon in the armory in the price board is the power to recommend that an embargo be placed on the importation of foods which make it difficult to maintain the price ceiling. But officials said it was to be doubted if an embargo would be sufficient without tariff adjustments and subsidies because some imports were of an essential nature and could not be dispensed with.

As has been the case for several weeks, conferences of price board officials were being conducted with board members and their advisers working out plans which will become effective throughout the country.

British Freighter Torpedoed

Ship Trained By Sub 80 Miles Off The Canadian Atlantic Coast

A Canadian Port—Survivors of a torpedoed British freighter said here enemy submarines had picked up the convoy in which they sailed 30 miles off the Canadian Atlantic coast and trailed it for three days before sinking their vessel.

The five seamen, picked up by a Canadian corvette, were the only survivors of a crew of 43 aboard the vessel, which sank in 40 seconds after a midnight torpedoing. They reported also a second freighter in the convoy had been torpedoed and sunk.

Exact location of the sinking was not disclosed, but the survivors were permitted to say it was "a few hundred miles" beyond Belle Isle, on the Atlantic side of the Strait of Belle Isle.

The survivors said that, when the presence of the U-boats was suspected, the escorting warships dropped depth charges continually. But the subs remained out of sight until the third night.

Two minutes before midnight, the undersized craft struck. The first vessel to be struck, carrying a deadweight cargo, plunged immediately under. Only four men were on her deck, and they and another were blown to the surface in an air bubble.

Right after, the second vessel was hit. It managed to get lifeboats out, and one of the boats took in the five men drifting in the chill water.

Supplies For Russia

New York.—A BBC broadcast heard by CBS said "every 48 hours American ships are arriving in the Persian gulf with arms for Russia. The Russians, the broadcast added, have set up a special transport organization to move these supplies north to the war front."

Supplies are arriving in Basra, Abbas, Bushire and Bandar Shapur from America, Great Britain, India and Australia on ships of almost all flags," the broadcast said.

HOSTAGE TERROR IS SWEEPING AXIS OCCUPIED AREAS

London.—The "hostage terror" sweeping nine Axis-occupied countries in Europe has resulted in the death of more than 100,000 persons, and the disappearance and imprisonment of countless other thousands, the inter-allied information committee announced to-day.

Britain, Russia, and the nine occupied countries are represented on the committee, whose report said:

"No occupied country is free of the hostage terror. In seven out of the nine countries thousands of innocent men and women have died, and in all of them thousands live daily under the shadow of death."

The 4,500-word formal report said the hostage system was invented by the Italians in their Easter invasion of Albania in 1939, was perfected by the Germans and "received its most ruthless application" in Bulgarian reprisals on six Greek cities where 15,000 persons were killed in a single expedition.

Here is the picture as given by the committee:

In Greece a total of 15,000 were killed in six small Thracian villages by a Bulgarian motorized force and bombers because of the death of only 19 Bulgarians. Thousands of hostages seized by the Italians have been killed or are missing. The Germans use the principle of "collective responsibility" in exacting similar lives, and have burned whole cities in Crete because of attacks on Nazi troops.

In Poland "no less" than 82,000 Poles executed in two years by the Germans and "death sentences are pronounced daily in great numbers." Hostages executed from every village unable to meet German grain levies. Three hundred ammunition workers were chosen from 2,000 and shot to break a strike. Thirty Polish actors executed for the assassination of the Polish film actor, Igo Syn, who was an informer for the Gestapo.

In Yugoslavia more than 5,000 were executed by the Germans aside from the "real warfare" now conducted against the Serbian guerrillas. Axis-ruled Croat officials are exacting "100-for-one" retribution for slain Croat soldiers, the hostages including innocent women and children. "The Germans use the same method in the Balkans. Every tenth man is picked out and shot, and then the village is burned."

CHURCHILL INSPECTS ANTI-AIRCRAFT POST MANNED BY WOMEN

Prime Minister Churchill shades his eyes from the glare of the sun as he watches roaring planes pass over an anti-aircraft post in Britain. Mrs. Churchill accompanied her husband on a visit to this "mixed" post—that is, a post where women of the Auxiliary Territorial Service stand side by side with the gunners ready to co-operate in any emergency. This is just one of the ways in which women are aiding in the "front line" defence of Britain.

Trapped In Tunnel

Five Men Perish In Railway Accident In California

Van Nuys, Calif.—Trapped in a 7,000-foot railroad tunnel, five men perished as a giant Southern Pacific locomotive burst into flames and turned the bore into a hell of smoke and fume.

Five other men escaped, groping their way through the darkness to fresh air. Four required hospital attention.

The death resulted from a freak accident in which a coupling snapped on the 95-car freight train, automatically setting the air brakes. The oil line from locomotive to tender was severed and burning oil sprayed a small area of the tunnel.

Although the train was stalled at 1 a.m. it was not until afternoon that a broken coupling knuckle was replaced and the long train pulled backwards into the open.

The 33-ton, 125-foot locomotive, last unit out, still was burning fiercely.

Ten Take Refuge In Japan's Port Of Kobe

Auckland, N.Z.—A businessman returning to Britain from Japan told newsmen that 10 enemy raiders and supply ships have been taking shelter at Kobe, Japanese port, for many months.

This traveller declared that Japan as a whole is tired of war. Conditions are precarious with everything eatable or wearable being rationed and the shops empty.

He estimated there are 3,000 Germans in Tokyo, ostensibly on economic and cultural missions.

LOW ACCIDENT AVERAGE IN AIR TRAINING PLAN

Ottawa.—Veteran airmen said that figures made public by Air Minister Power show that the "kid airmen" of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan are going through their courses, including aerobatics, with as good an accident record as first-class civilian airlines.

Pilots with memories of the Great War and the hasty, hazardous training which had to be given men before they went into combat said Maj. Power's figures on training in this war were "remarkable."

The minister said that 1,499,851 miles were flown for every fatal accident in the training plan. This compared with 1,269,231 miles flown for every fatal accident in United States civilian flying in 1940.

Officials said United States air lines were recognized as leaders in operational efficiency and passenger-carrying machines were manned by pilots with hundreds of hours of flying time behind them.

"The civilian pilot flies a straight course assisted by experience and by all the resources of his service while a military pilot in training is often on his own, flying a fast military machine in aerobatics in the later stages," they said.

In the 224,486,625 miles flown at an average of 125 miles an hour by the training plan schools to Sept. 30, there were 157 fatal accidents, or one fatality for every 11,438 hours in the air, Maj. Power's figures showed.

The fatal accident rate in September was .067 or one fatal accident to 1,818,279 miles flown, compared with .17 in November, 1940. With less favorable flying conditions during the winter months, Maj. Power said that an upward trend was to be expected.

From the beginning of this year to the end of September, training school planes spent 1,596,660 hours in the air and Maj. Power estimated total flying hours for the year would total 2,250,000.

BRITISH PLAN IS TO DRIVE THE AXIS OUT OF AFRICA

London.—The object of the British drive in Libya is not to gain positions in worthless desert towns, nor to relieve besieged Tobruk, but to drive the Axis forces out of Africa. That is clear from the nature and scope of the operations, which extend from the coast more than 100 miles southward into the desert and are supported heavily by air and sea forces. The attack was started with all the fanfare of a major offensive, including an inspirational message from Prime Minister Churchill read to the troops.

It should prove the first actual test of Britain's power against Hitler's type of mechanized warfare. Planners did not provide such a test because the British were not equipped for it. In this case they are equipped, after months of preparation and have the advantage of the latest American tanks, airplanes and motorized equipment. London reports that the British are meeting the Germans and Italians with at least equal force.

The latter may be an understatement. Britain has been making ready for the drive for five months, during which there has been no important fighting or waste of men and material. In that time, British air and sea reconnaissance must have given them a fair idea of the enemy strength.

Moreover, in a sense the drive has been in progress for weeks. Like a barrage preliminary to a land battle, British planes and warships have been pounding the Axis supply lines from Italy, causing the heaviest damage and making it impossible for the Germans and Italians to match the British in piling up material and reinforcing their men.

The advantage in supply lies with the British, as long as the fleet and planes based on Malta can dominate the passage between Sicily and North Africa. At the start of the offensive, the British supply lines are shorter and better. The more the progress they would be considerably lengthened and the latter stages of the battle much more difficult.

Britain's Food Problem

Consumes Two Hundred Million Gallons More Milk Than In Peace Time

London.—Agriculture Minister R. S. Hudson told the House of Commons that Britons so far this year have drunk 200,000,000 gallons more of milk than in the last full year of peace.

In a lengthy review of the agricultural situation, the minister explained the United Kingdom has almost reached the maximum limit in preparation of arable land, but he spoke optimistically about future production of all crops, including potatoes, supplies of which are almost double those of peacetime.

Wages For Farm Workers

Minimum Amount Has Been Raised

London.—The central agricultural wages board ordered minimum wages for farm workers in England and Wales from 48 to 50 shillings a week ($10.88 to $13.35), effective Dec. 28. Farm workers' organizations had been campaigning for the raise for six months. Many counties had raised the minimum, but 11 had retained the old 48-shilling rate.

A couple of weeks ago we made strong reference to the unwelcome presence of loafers in local restaurants. They are a curse to any place of business and should know it. What about an occasional visit of our town police to clear them out, and make a continuation of loafer practice punishable. We have seen parties of tourists becoming so disgusted at the loafers and their usual silly conversations that they have not enjoyed their meals, and in some cases have left the places before their orders could be taken. A loafer might just as well consider himself "Curse Number One."
